DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendment

1. This Office Action is in response to Applicant's Amendment , dated April 11, 2006, in response to USPTO Office Action dated January 11, 2006.

Double Patenting

2. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

3. Claim 2 and 3 are rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1 and 10 respectively of U.S. Patent No. 6,661,397.

Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because both claims teach the same invention. Though claim 1 of said USP 6,661,397 teaches the incorporation of a "second inverter" this feature is a duplication of parts as opposed to a new or additional limitation; said USP 6,661,397 further includes a description of the makeup of the electroluminescent device, the said electroluminescent device “formed by an organic multi-layers driven by a current as a load device” which would be the same structure of the electroluminescent device recited in claim 2 of the instant invention.

Allowable Subject Matter

4. Claim 4 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Relative to claim 4, the major difference between the teachings of the prior art of record (USP 5,798,746, Koyama) and that of the instant invention is that said prior art does not teach an emissive display wherein a power supply and reference voltage line of an inverter circuit are arranged in a vertical direction of the pixel, and a relationship of an aperture ratio > an average brightness/3000 is present between the aperture ratio and the average brightness, where the aperture ratio is the area ratio of the area of light emission area to the pixel area.

Conclusion

5. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
